Our team constructs fences as if they were constructing one for their own house. We've seen a lot of builders take shortcuts to complete a job and be paid. But the most important thing to us is that your fence or gate is properly built and will endure a long time. We don't believe in taking the easy way out; instead, we believe in doing things well. To guarantee that the fence we construct will endure for years, we only utilize high-quality materials. If you're still undecided about whether or not to forward with your project, give us a call or fill out a form to speak with one of our specialists, who can answer any questions you may have. We are here to help rather than to sell.

Frequently Asked Questions

Q: What is the difference between a gate and a fence?

A: A fence is a narrow, human-constructed structure that divides two pieces of property or the perimeter of a home, whereas a gate is a door-like structure located outside of a property.

Q: How much does a gate or a fence cost?

A: For a typical size pedestrian gate, expect to pay between $200 and $1,000. Many variables, such as size and material, may cause such figures to fluctuate by thousands of dollars.

Q: How wide should a gate be for a fence?

A: When constructing a single gate, we suggest that the gate area be no more than four feet wide. Anything broader than that will need measuring and constructing a double gate that joins in the center.
